

I should have known it better

I thought live's gonna be full of Love
Where everybody looks for each other
Wher no one has to be bothered

But now and then it seems to be different
What others do that doesn't matter
I should have known it better!

Instead of peace and harmony
There's other thinks your neighbour looks
People se just what they want to see
He doesn't care how much it tooks

When you think of how it could be Frustration comes along
Than you can see the reality
Wich kills everything that's strong

Don't try to show to many feelings
Don't try it with honesty
Men should not have these things
They only should be greedily

I thought live's gonna be full of Love
Where everybody looks for each other
Wher no one has to be bothered

But now and then it seems to be different
What others do that doesn't matter
I should have known it better!

Everyone who tries to be happy
Go his way with satisfaction
Keep his mind not to be sloppy
Put a smile on any action

But others are full of frustrations
Full of bad influence
All of them distribute their rations
And act without prudence

I thought live's gonna be full of Love
Where everybody looks for each other
Wher no one has to be bothered

But now and then it seems to be different
What others do that doesn't matter
I should have known it better!

Money seems to be the essence
Most important thing on earth
The biggest effort of our science
But is it so much worth?

Wars and fights just for possessing
Killing children without grace
This is not gona be blessing
This is not a joyfull place

I thought live's gonna be full of Love
Where everybody looks for each other
Wher no one has to be bothered

But now and then it seems to be different
What others do that doesn't matter
I should have known it better!
